The following user stories were created/discussed/refined/prioritized.

The following user stories were discussed.

- User Story 5: We discussed and agreed on which organization to simulate for the purposes of our USB drop attack risk assessment. I discussed the key assets that are at risk.
- User Story 6: We discussed the method on developing the risk assessment document and how the detailed threat categories and descriptions will fit into it. We discussed that it will maintain a clear and consistent structure.
- User Story 7: We discussed some vulnerabilities that would allow a USB drop attack to occur, and I will share with the team more examples that we could mitigate towards the end of sprint 2.
- User Story 8: We discussed and agreed to document tracking links between user stories and specific risks, so that each security consideration is directly linked to a specific story and can be verified during sprint reviews.
