

Sprint Review Meeting Minutes:

Project: USB Drop Attack

Attendees: Roberto Martinez, Lauren De Leon, Mohammed Alabdajabbar, Nicholas Marini, Jonathan Ruiz

Start time: 3:30 PM

End time: 4:30 PM

After a show and tell presentation, the implementation of the following user stories were accepted by the product owners:

- User Story: 5 As a cybersecurity analyst , I want to write the introduction and abstract part of the report. So that readers can know the purpose and scope of our project.
- User Story: 5 As a report editor, I want to write the findings, conclusions, and Appendices. Also, format and proofread the report. This is so that the report can look more professional and easy to read.
- User Story: 5 As a security consultant, I want to write the mitigation strategies section of the report, so that companies know how to reduce these attacks.
- User Story: 5 As a risk assessor, I want to write the risk identification and threat description, which is part of the report. This is so that the nature of the attacks are explained and risks that are potential.
- User Story: 5 As a team member, I want to do the risk analysis part of the report, and also write about both the recovery and response plans. This is so that companies know the impact and can react to USB threats.

The following ones were rejected and moved back to the product backlog to be assigned to a future sprint at a future Spring Planning meeting.

- All of the tasks didn't need to be moved to a future sprint
 - How this should be reflected on the user task definition in Mingle:
