Start time: 6:00PM

End time: 6:30PM

What went wrong?

- We initially were confused with the structure of the documentation.
- We ran into some speed bumps with trying to set up a Chrome extension.
- Our meeting times have been inconsistent because it is difficult to find a time where everyone is available.

Did we do a good job estimating our team's velocity?

- Yes, in that respect everything went smoothly

Did we do a good job estimating the points (time required) for each user story?

- Yes, this was a good gauge at our team's velocity.

Did each team member work as scheduled?

- Yes, no issues to report.

What went right?

- Excellent team work. If ever a problem arose, we were very supportive of each other.

How to address the issues in the next sprint?

- Maintain open communication and make sure we help each team member who might not be fully understanding their task.

How to improve the product?

- We are considering switching from a Chrome extension to a website.
