

Date: 9/3/2024

Attendees: Erick Pelaez Puig, Elnaz Toreihi, Valeria Giraldo, Jeslyn Chacko

Start time: 8:30 PM

End time: 8:50 PM

Erick Pelaez Puig:

- What have you done since the last scrum meeting?
 1. Began researching Large Language Models and learning about the basics regarding them.
- What is planned to be done until the next scrum meeting?
 1. Continue researching Large Language Models.
 2. Research some issues regarding Large Language Models.
- What are the hurdles?
 1. Time management.

Elnaz Toreihi:

- What have you done since the last scrum meeting?
 1. I've been reviewing some of the concepts and notes I took from my natural language processing class to refresh on LLMs
- What is planned to be done until the next scrum meeting?
 1. I will continue to review and do more in depth research on LLMs.
- What are the hurdles?
 1. Ensuring we can meet the necessary goals for the project.

Valeria Giraldo:

- What have you done since the last scrum meeting?
 1. I've been analyzing the data we'll be using for our project, focusing on understanding the specific requirements and challenges related to applying Large Language Models (LLMs).
- What is planned to be done until the next scrum meeting?
 1. I'll review relevant case studies to better understand how others have handle similar data-related challenges.
- What are the hurdles?
 1. Balancing this project with other commitments, making time management crucial.

Jeslyn Chacko:

- What have you done since the last scrum meeting?
 1. Since the last meeting, I have begun researching what LLM's are on the IBM website.
- What is planned to be done until the next scrum meeting?
 1. I am to continue researching the bias behind LLM's.
 2. Contact the professor to have him speak to us about the specifics of the project.
- What are the hurdles?
 1. One of the hurdles for me is managing our roles in order to finish the project.

