

Koios Server (backend code)

To run koios server make sure you have Eclipse IDE or IntelliJ IDE to run the server.

For eclipse you can go to File -> Import -> As Gradle Project -> Finish

When you run the application run it as a spring boot application make sure you have the spring boot 4 plugin from eclipse to access this go to Help -> Eclipse Markert Place -> Search -> Spring boot 4 -> Install

Please reference the image below for the run configurations and ensure you have selected KoiosServer as the application entry-point

React Client ReadMe (frontend code)

To run the react application you can open Visual Code and go to File -> Open Folder -> koios-web

Once the project has been opened you may navigate to Terminal -> New Terminal

Type in the following command “npm install” once all your dependencies have been installed you may enter “npm start” this will initialize your react application