What went wrong

- Understandably, holidays caused teammates to not be as available as usual.
- My jsPDF didn't work and it took pair programming to get it working.
- We didn't do enough testing throughout.
- A few bugs were discovered (but resolved).
- Inflexibility of results page.
- Warnings in browser and server logs.
- Undesired case-sensitivity when searching.

What went right

- Very productive in person coding sessions.
- We got the features we wanted done. And our MVP is good.
- Got done what I wanted done early enough to start documentation.
- Most of the core features we set out to do for the project were achieved.
- Team collaborated a lot to tackle bugs and stories, got lots of work done.

What can be improved for the next sprint

- Maintaining goals we set at the beginning of the sprint.
- Coordinate better the User stories so that it can be easier to create documentation.
- Should've done documentation of user stories throughout project rather than wait till end.
- We would have liked to implemented the routing feature for version 1.0 but due to time constraints it wasn't within our scope.
- Flesh out the webapp more.
- Move middle-ware SQL queries to DB as stored procedures.
